PROJECTS

Fighting Game (Front-End) ↗

September 2023

- This app is a 2D 1-vs-1 fighting game using JavaScript and HTML canvas. The character frames belong to 16-bit video games from the 90s, specifically Gravis from Comix Zone and Beast from Shaq Fu.
- Technologies used: JavaScript, HTML5, CSS3.

Liliana GameStore (Front-End) ↗

August 2023

- In this group project, we decided to create an e-commerce platform for computer products. My contributions to this page focused on the Front-End, where I worked on creating and validating user registration forms from both the client and admin sides. I also worked on the product detail page, the comments section, and the development of the search bar, ensuring its functionality could integrate with the catalog page filters.
- Technologies used: JavaScript, HTML5, CSS3, React, Redux, Bootstrap, Vite, Node.js, Express.js, Sequelize, PostgreSQL, MercadoPago.

Pokémon Single Page Application (Full-Stack) ↗

July 2023

- This app allows users to explore all existing Pokémon from the 1st generation, which can be filtered by name, attack, defense, speed, or type. Additionally, it provides the option to create a custom Pokémon and assign desired statistics.
- Technologies used: JavaScript, HTML5, CSS3, React, Redux, Node.js, Express.js, Sequelize, PostgreSQL.

Rick and Morty Single Page Application (Full-Stack) ↗

May 2023-June 2023

- This was the first integrative project I completed during the Henry bootcamp. I developed it to apply the knowledge I gained as I progressed through the program and completed assigned tasks. This allowed me to apply the knowledge I was acquiring.
- Technologies used: JavaScript, HTML5, CSS3, React, Redux, Node.js, Express.js, Sequelize, PostgreSQL.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Front-End Developer

April 2024 - July 2024

ONCE, Buenos Aires, Argentina.

As a front-end developer at an e-commerce start-up, I have focused on creating and optimizing attractive and functional user interfaces. I have worked on the design and aesthetic development to ensure that the views reflect an intuitive and efficient user experience. My responsibilities included implementing designs, using modern technologies, and improving application performance. Additionally, I have contributed my expertise in view design, ensuring visual consistency and smooth navigation. My ability to adapt to new technologies and my design knowledge have allowed me to significantly contribute to the project's development.

Customer Service

November 2011 - July 2023

UNDER GAMES, Buenos Aires, Argentina.

As a retail seller of video games and computer supplies, my primary focus has been to provide exceptional customer experiences and increase sales. I have offered expert advice, managed inventory effectively, provided technical support in repairs, and built strong relationships with customers and suppliers. My communication skills, passion for technology, and results-oriented approach have allowed me to achieve goals and adapt to challenges as part of a team. Additionally, I have maintained strong technical knowledge to provide efficient computer solutions. Technological evolution is a priority to remain competitive in this constantly changing industry.
